Narrative:

The competition ran on-time except for the last session which started 15 minutes late. The facility was kept in great shape by the building staff for the duration of the event. Environmental controls were excellent with the venue and warm-up areas staying at a comfortable temperature throughout the competition. The volunteer hospitality room provided a fine meal and drinks for event personnel. Of particular note was the salad with fried chicken cutlet slices which was of excellent quality. There was a very large contingent of young lifters at the event and there were many noteworthy performances by these same athletes.
